Description

Lowrance H2OC handheld GPS with 12-volt charger

Ole and the local fire department responded to a fire call at an oil rig. Their truck sped out into the oil field and drove right into the flames. Ole's crew then jumped out of the truck and beat the fire out with their jackets. The oil tycoon was so impressed he handed Ole a reward check for $50,000 and asked Ole what he was going to do with the money. "Well, first of all," Ole said, "we're going to fix the brakes on our truck."
